01 Hall In Comus House - Denner.Vineyards.jpg..

I would have liked this more if I didn't feel like I was leaning over. Good feeling of light, though.

02 Mission San Miguel Cross.jpg

Hmmm, I'm not sure where I'm supposed to go in this. Nice color, but a bit 'vague'.

03 Pt Lobos Sunset.jpg

A cliché, I know, but well seen. Be careful of the horizon, though. I know the world isn't flat, but the viewer will be more at ease with a level horizon. Even when it isn't!

04 Rose.jpg

What makes this image work for me is that the center, the point of interest, is sharp and clear, with the rest of the subject gracefully fading away. This can be tough, I've done it a zillion times, but not always as successful as this.

05 Silhoutte.jpg

Basic and simple, and it works. I at first was concerned with the upper right corner, but 'more' or 'less' may not have been 'better'. Seems like you found the right compromise.

06 Tree trunk.jpg

Difficult subject, and too harsh. At least try to soften it a bit, open it up and let it breathe.
