

Sharon McLemore:

I discovered photography about 26 years ago and it has been my passion every since. I joined the Stockton Camera Club at about the same time and spent many a vacation traveling the Western USA and Canada with my husband. What a wonderful and diverse area we are so blessed to live in. The western landscape gives us so many grand and intimate vistas to setup a tripod and get lost in nature's wonders.

I like to put a little adventure in my photography, like rafting the Colorado River through the Grand Canyon or snowmobiling through Yellowstone. Nature, landscapes & macro are some of the things I enjoy photographing, but I am eager to photograph anything that presents itself.

I am VP in charge of programs for Stockton Camera Club, Pictorial Chairman of San Joaquin Valley Council of Camera Clubs, Gold Rush Chapter of PSA and Art Expression of San Joaquin.
